

ICAR-CIRG gets ISO 9001: 2008 certification

The Institute has been awarded ISO 9001: 2008 certificate for research & development and capacity building for improving goat productivity. The certificate was released by Institute Director Dr. S. K. Agarwal in a ceremony on 36th Foundation day of the Institute on 13th July, 2015. Addressing the gathering of Scientist, technical, Administrative staff and students, Dr Agrawal expressed satisfaction over the quality of research work being conducted by the scientists of the Institute, transfer of various technologies to Indian companies for commercialization and training provided to different classes of stakeholders related to goat production. During the programme, nine farmers were awarded with different prizes for their outstanding performance in a 26 episode programme “Farm School on AIR” broadcasted by All India Radio Station, Mathura on scientific goat farming. This ceremony was attended by Institute staff, Bank manager PNB farah, representative of AIR Mathura and local farmers.

